

New Zenler Support Articles by Feature

This report compiles the articles available in Zenler's official support center (support.newzenler.com). The help site organizes documentation into collections (features). For each feature collection, the table below lists the articles that were visible on the support site during research (8 April 2026). Article titles are taken from the support pages and grouped under their respective feature. For lengthy collections (e.g., Courses or Site), only the main article titles and sub-collections are listed because some collections contain dozens of articles.

Relationship between Support Articles and Zenler Pricing

The New Zenler pricing page provides details of the platform's subscription plans (Starter, Pro, Premium). Each plan includes feature allowances such as number of sites, courses, communities, emails per month, marketing funnels, and live sessions. For example, the Starter plan allows one site, five courses and 5,000 emails per month, while the Pro plan expands to three sites, unlimited courses and 100,000 emails per month ⁵⁰. These plan limits correspond to the features described in the support articles—courses, marketing funnels, emails, communities, live sessions, etc. The Pro and Premium plans also include advanced features like developer API support, single sign-on, and priority support ⁵¹, which align with articles such as Developers – Creating an API Key and Reading the Documentation under the Site > Developers sub-collection ⁴¹ and the Student Experience article on single sign-on ⁴⁷. Comparing the pricing plan table with the support collections can help users identify which documentation applies to the features available in their subscription.
